Personal statement & Objective

Motivated post graduate student with a strong work ethic looking to further develop their programming skills in the web industry by working in an environment that allows for further development in computer related skills, more challenging and creative projects which can build a strong career down the path.

Frontend web development has been a very interesting path that I would like to further develop in the future by working on a wide variety of projects that will help me further develop myself into a full-stack web developer in the future learning further frontend/backend technologies.
